

Aliyah Davis
(123) 456-7890
a.davis@email.com
345 Burr Terrace, San Jose, CA 67890

Profile

Driven product manager with more than 20 years' experience in technological product development and expertise in successfully commercializing technology advances. Experience leading cross-functional teams of up to 20 members to bring innovative products to market while managing budgets of up to $3 million.

Professional Experience

Product Manager, TauTech, San Jose, CA

April 2012 - Present

- Collaborate cross-functionally with marketing, design, engineering and sales teams to identify new product solutions and develop them for market
- Lead product development, strategy and execution across four teams and launched five new products in three years, resulting in 25% revenue increase
- Use beta testing, data analytics and user research to identify and implement opportunities for improvement, leading to 80% increase in customer satisfaction
- Develop detailed product roadmaps using Agile methodology

Product Manager, Sigma Technology Solutions, Austin, TX

July 2004 - March 2012

- Designed and implemented A/B testing across all products, leading to 22% increase in conversion rate
- Implemented waterfall methodology to launch new video games, resulting in 55% increase in efficiency and 95% success rate in meeting agreed upon timelines and budgets
- Led four cross-functional teams from product conception to launch

Education

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, CA, September 2000 - June 2004

Master of Science in Technology Commercialization

University of Texas - Austin, Austin, TX, September 2010 - June 2011

Key Skills

- Product development
- Project management
- Market research
- Experience with Agile and Waterfall methodologies
- Leadership and team-building expertise

Certifications

- Agile Certified Product Manager and Product Owner, 2017