

Zachary Soren
(304)-567-8901
zacsoren24@emailsent.com
422 Leo Street, Prosperity, WV 25909

Profile

Conscientious and methodical software developer with experience writing complex software applications in multiple languages. Self-motivated and able to lead and inspire others. Exceptionally well-developed problem-solving skills and dedicated to maintaining up-to-date knowledge of emerging technologies. Active listener with a talent for creating solutions that balance user needs against company goals.

Key Skills

- Expert knowledge of black and white box testing methods
- Encouraging mentorship style
- Able to multitask and prioritize tasks under intense time pressure
- Comfortable working independently and as part of a team
- Excellent working knowledge of Quality Assurance metrics

Education

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science (Software Development)

SALEM UNIVERSITY Salem, WV, September 2010 - June 2014

Master of Science in Software Engineering

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY Morgantown, WV, September 2014 - June 2016

Professional Experience

Software Developer, Thermo Fisher Scientific, Charleston, WV

January 2018 - Present

- Work independently to carry out automated software testing using Coded-UI and API techniques
- Rigorously analyze software performance and identify and correct errors with a 97% success rate
- Collaborate with clients, colleagues, and service users to develop software applications using Agile processes
- Support team members to increase their technical expertise in SQL databasing

Junior Software Developer, ICF, Charleston, WV

July 2016 - January 2018

- Liaised with clients to gain a thorough understanding of their needs and goals and generated effective software solutions to their problems
- Assisted with writing Java code for applications and software testing
- Provided ongoing technical support and troubleshooting services, making system improvements when necessary