

Connor Stevens

1818 Liberty Street,
Arlington, VA 20380
connorstevens@example.com
(123) 456-7890

Motivated government and politics reporter with experience at National Public Radio (NPR). Possesses a vast knowledge regarding the history and current-day status of race relations and other social justice issues. Spearheaded the creation of a non-partisan student political blog while attending American University. Eager to join a factual and integrity-based newsroom as a full-time journalist.

Key Skills

- Data Analysis and Visualization
- Integrity
- Interviewing
- Photography
- Studio Equipment
- Policy-making and Legislation
- Social Media
- Storytelling

Professional Experience

Reporting Intern

Politics, NPR, Washington D.C. | January 2021 – June 2021

- Voiced two live radio news stories that aired nationally under the supervision of the Washington Desk team
- Assisted in research and interviews for NPR White House Correspondent that led to an exclusive
- Interviewed 11 local and state politicians
- Participated in the production of both radio broadcast and podcast material
- Attended virtual staff meetings and kept supervisors up-to-date using a range of tools, including Basecamp and Slack

Education

Bachelor of Arts in Journalism

American University Washington D.C., September 2018 – May 2021

Relevant Courses

- Advanced Reporting
- Digital Media and Podcast Production
- Politics and the Media
- Quantitative Methods for Journalists
- Race, Ethnic, and Community Reporting
- Social Forces that Shaped America (US History Credit)