

Luis Rodriguez

123 Your Street, New York, NY 12345
youremail@example.com
(123) 456-7890

A Speech Pathology Graduate specializing in speech-language therapy, autism spectrum disorders (ASD), American Sign Language (ASL), and team leadership. A proven track record of mentoring students within the Speech-Language program and providing ESL tutoring services.

Education

Bachelor of Art (B.A.)
Speech-Language-Hearing Science
Columbia University,
New York, NY
September 2017 - May 2021
GPA: 3.75/4.0

- Member, American Sign Language Club, 2018-2021
- Member, National Honors Society, 2017-2021
- Dean's List, 2017-2021
- Summa Cum Laude

Key Skills

- Speech-Language-Hearing Therapy
- American Sign Language
- Microsoft Office Suite
- Teaching
- Lesson Plan Implementation
- ESL
- Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD)

Professional Experience

Speech-Language-Hearing Writing Tutor
Columbia University, New York, NY | September 2020 – May 2021

- Coordinated with students weekly to identify weaknesses, resolved questions with speech, language, and hearing science course material, and developed strategies for academic success
- Resolved concerns regarding paper structure, prompts, revisions, and MLA and APA citation formatting

Classroom Assistant
Columbia University, New York, NY | September 2019 – September 2020

- Supported a professor in the execution of two English preparatory courses for incoming first-year students
- Taught two thirty-minute sessions five days a week based on the needs of the students and focused on improving writing abilities and critical thinking skills

Volunteerism Experience

Volunteer Teaching Assistant
Brooklyn Literacy Center, New York, NY | June 2020 – Present

- Supported one instructor in facilitating a three-hour class for ESL students, conducted evaluations to identify academic weaknesses, and assisted with implementing lesson plans and activities