

Jonathon Brown

123 Your Street, Philadelphia, PA 12345
jonathonbrown@example.com
(123) 456-7890

An English Professor with 10+ years of experience providing instruction in Irish literature, Modernist literature, and postmodernist literary theory. A strong history of designing engaging curriculum and courses to improve the accessibility of complex texts. Adept at providing coaching and mentorship to students to drive academic growth.

Education

Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) Literature

University of Pennsylvania,
Philadelphia, PA
September 2006 - May 2011

Bachelor of Art (B.A.) English

University of Pennsylvania,
Philadelphia, PA
September 2002 - May 2006

Key Skills

- English Literature
- Literary Theory
- Academic Advising
- Education Leadership
- Curriculum Development

Professional Experience

Tenure English Professor

Temple University, Philadelphia, PA | September 2016 – Present

- Teach courses analyzing the literary works of Jorge Luis Borges and John Barth as the bridge between modernist and postmodernist literature, including Night-Sea Journey, The Literature of Exhaustion, Labyrinths, and Ficciones
- Provide academic advising and coaching to students, deliver guidance for selecting research topics, and write recommendations for graduate school applications
- Achieve a 95% positive rating on professor evaluations from students

Adjunct Professor

Villanova, Philadelphia, PA | May 2011 – September 2016

- Planned and delivered lectures to classes of up to 50+ undergraduate students on literary theory and Irish authors such as John Banville and James Joyce
- Created course objectives and syllabus, evaluated research papers, provided critical feedback on academic writing, and delivered academic coaching to drive student growth