

Cameron Malfara

123 Windermere Rd., Seattle, WA 12345
youremail@example.com
(123) 456-7890

Dedicated Economist with 5 years of experience in the federal government. Ready collaborator who builds productive relationships with agency leaders. Focused on helping find new ways to streamline and improve research procedures. Experienced and confident public speaker.

Education

Bachelor's Degree – Business
University of Washington, Seattle, WA

Key Skills

- Complex Problem-Solving
- Data Gathering & Analysis
- Data Visualization
- Inflation & Interest Rate Analysis
- Qualitative & Quantitative Analysis
- Reporting & Documentation
- Spending Needs Analysis

Professional Experience

- Economist
United States Department of Energy, Seattle, WA
August 2019 to Present
Hours per week: 40 | Salary: $72,000 | Supervisor: Aliya Jackson, aliya.jackson@example.com (may contact)

 - Analyze and predict spending needs of various government projects to help leaders make sound fiscal decisions
 - Gather and assess data on US wages and employment
 - Write in-depth reports on research findings for review by multiple agencies
- Economist
United States Department of Agriculture, Seattle, WA
June 2017 to July 2019
Hours per week: 40 | Salary: $67,000 | Supervisor: John Bergsen, john.bergsen@example.com (may contact)

 - Collected and summarized data on economic activity and productivity metrics
 - Consulted and advised policymakers, helping ensure new laws accounted for economic factors and implications