

Skyler Thompson

A dynamic Film Director with five years of experience specializing in videography, cinematography, script writing, and narrative storytelling. A proven track record of directing thought-provoking independent films centered on overcoming loss and tragedy.

123 Santa Maria,
San Francisco, CA 12345
skylertompson@example.com
(123) 456-7890

Professional Experience

Independent Film Director

West Light Productions, San Francisco, CA May 2018 – Present

- Direct, write, and produce an independent drama film, Echoes in the Sand, detailing the relationships of a family on their final beach vacation following a terminal diagnosis, resulting in critical acclaim from critics at the Sundance Film Festival
- Manage pre-production and post-production activities, evaluate scenes to ensure tempo and narrative consistency, and identify necessary cuts and scene transitions
- Oversee cast and production crews with 25+ personnel, and provide direction to actors and actresses to bring compelling characters to life

Independent Filmmaker

Latent Sun Productions, San Francisco, CA May 2016 – May 2018

- Directed an independent drama film, The Wind on 9th Street, which received 92% positive reviews on IndieFilms.com and 85% Rottentomatoes.com
- Led a crew of 30+ production staff and 20 actors and actresses, evaluated performances, and ensured a safe and collaborative working environment

Education

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) Film
Stanford University, Stanford, CA
September 2012 - May 2016

Key Skills

- Filmmaking
- Narrative Storytelling
- Film Editing
- Sound Design
- Cinematography